2021 brings hope. We anticipate meeting in person, traveling, and hopefully, a lessening of the impact of the pandemic. This past year we reimagined how we practice law. We held mediations, meetings and depositions by Zoom. We worked from home and utilized technology in new ways. Some of the changes in the practice are here to stay.

The South Dakota Supreme Court will look different this year. As everyone knows, Chief Justice David Gilbertson retires after 25 years on the Court and 19 years as Chief Justice. The Chief Justice's leadership will continue to have an impact on the Judicial System long after his retirement. Projects like Specialty Courts and the Rural Attorney Recruitment Program impact our State in ways that will continue for generations.

The Chief Justice has had an open-door policy with the State Bar Executive Director, Bar leadership and Bar Members. I met with him last July as the new State Bar President. After the meeting, I asked the Chief how many State Bar Presidents get the opportunity to have an informal one on one discussion with the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. His response, "very few, probably none."

Chief Justice Gilbertson has been active on several State Bar Committees including the Judicial-Bar Liaison Committee and the Law School Committee. This service exemplifies the Chief's commitment to the legal profession and his openness to bar members. Law students get to know him when speaks to the first year students during orientation and some take pictures with him during the Statewide Swearing-In Ceremony. His open and welcoming personality will be missed.

Thank you, Chief Justice Gilbertson for your years of service to the legal profession and people of the State of South Dakota. Our profession and our State are better because of your service. Enjoy your retirement.

I also want to welcome the incoming Chief Justice, Steven Jensen. The State Bar looks forward to continuing the collaborations and communication with the Unified Judicial System.

Happy New Year!

Happy new year! Since 2018, I have been fortunate to serve as a member of the South Dakota Bar Foundation Board of Directors. The South Dakota Bar Foundation provides members of our Bar the opportunity to give back to the legal community by engaging in law related philanthropy. Over the past several years, due to the generous donations of members of our State Bar, the Foundation has been able to assist many programs, such as Access to Justice, Ask a Lawyer, South Dakota Guardianship Program, South Dakota Teen Court, South Dakota Public Broadcasting & Statehouse Coverage, Second Circuit Mediation Project (WORKS), Seventh Circuit Mediation Project (WORD), and support for Lawyers Assistance Program.

As we begin the new year, I would ask that you, as Young Lawyers, keep the South Dakota Bar Foundation in mind with a tax-deductible charitable donation to help the Foundation continue in its efforts to improve the profession and community. Every bit matters, and your generosity is greatly appreciated!

Shifting gears to Young Lawyers Section events, our Board is well underway planning our next CLE, the Young Lawyers Boot Camp/Fit2Practice, which will take place in both Rapid City and Sioux Falls in the Springtime. Stay tuned for some awesome CLE topics!

Fellows of the South Dakota Bar Foundation

Many South Dakota lawyers have risen to the challenge of making the SD Bar Foundation a favorite charity. Such generosity deserves public acknowledgement. Therefore, the Bar Foundation Board of Directors has created a “Fellows” program to not only make such acknowledgement, but also to provide an opportunity for more of our members to participate and determine their personal level of professional philanthropy. Participation can be on an annual basis or by pledge with payments over a period of time. All contributions made to the “Fellows” program will be deposited in the Foundation’s endowment account managed by the SD Community Foundation – famous for low management fees and excellent investment returns. Donations to the endowment are tax deductible and a perpetual gift to our profession and the educational endeavors and charities the Foundation supports.

Our Profession. Our Responsibility.

Dean's List: News from the Law School

by: Neil Fulton
Dean
USD
Knudsen School of Law

As one year gives way to another it is a time of transition and taking stock. We struggle to remember the right year on our documents, make resolutions to start new habits or break old ones, and close out projects from the year just ending. Transition points like the New Year are where past and future meet. I want to take stock of another transition taking place as this column goes out, as two Law School alumni transition leadership of the South Dakota Supreme Court as Chief Justice.

Chief Justice David Gilbertson is a South Dakota servant to his core. He grew up here, went to school here, and has served here as a state's attorney, judge, and justice. As the work of his life and the courthouse photos he takes while driving around the state attest, South Dakota is his home and he loves it.

He graduated from the Law School in 1974. Steve Zinter, Glen Severson, and he met on the first day law school, remained friends, and came back together on the South Dakota Supreme Court. I love to tell current law students that story to illustrate two points. First, the friendships that they make in law school will endure, define much of their practice and life, and bring them enormous satisfaction over decades. Second, the next generation of lawyer leaders is studying in the law school right now. I don't know what future David Gilbertson envisioned for himself at orientation, but, his career has shaped South Dakota in important ways. And it gives the next generation of lawyers guidance about how theirs can too.

Chief Justice Gilbertson has maintained a strong connection with the Law School. He annually talks to the incoming class about professionalism on the first day of orientation. Students consistently comment how inspiring it is to have the Chief Justice be their first teacher; this is something obviously different about USD and South Dakota. The Chief has served on the task force on relocating the Law School; facilitated bringing the Supreme Court to the Law School to hear argument; and provided wise counsel to me, Dean Geu, and Dean Vickery. Last fall he even accepted my invitation to come to the State/U game with the condition that he cheer for the Yotes. He did. They won.

Chief Justice Gilbertson's list of achievements is long. On personal note, one of the most significant is that he has unfailingly been a friend to me and to the Law School.

Chief Justice-elect Steve Jensen is a 1988 graduate of the Law School. I met him years ago while representing aligned parties in a case where one of my partners at May Adam threw me into the deep end of the pool knowing that I couldn't have a better lifeguard than Steve Jensen. If based only on his record of practice and public service, Justice Jensen would be a great ally to the law school through his example. But as I look at the partnership that lies ahead, there is considerably more to come.

Justice Jensen has already found innovative ways for the Law School and UJS to partner. Last year he proposed hosting a student in an externship placement. He made that exceptional opportunity available for one student and convinced others of the value of that placement. As a result, we have now placed seven students with the South Dakota Supreme Court and circuit courts. I look forward to building on Justice Jensen's great idea and great opportunity for students going forward.

Justice Jensen is not only a supporter of the Law School, he is a resident. He and his law clerk have chambers here. While his ascension to Chief Justice will require him to be in Pierre more, he has graciously agreed to keep his home here at the home of the law in South Dakota. I am not aware of another law school in the United States who has a Chief Justice in residence. Students and potential students notice this; it shows them in concrete terms the depth of support for the Law School and the unique opportunities we provide to build professional connections from day one.

Having Justice Jensen in the building has been invaluable to me personally. He is a fantastic sounding board who is always willing to talk. When COVID-19 largely emptied the building, he was connection point when human interaction was limited. I will say that he has set my heart racing a few early mornings by knocking unexpectedly on my door when I thought I was the only one in the building. I appreciate all the time and thought Justice Jensen offers the Law School.

Taking stock of Chief Justices Gilbertson and Jensen culminates in three key thoughts. First, everyone at the Law School is proud of them as alumni. Their work honors their state and their alma mater. Second, everyone here is incredibly grateful for their service and support. The demands on their time are many, but they always make time to support the Law School. Lastly, working together I believe they have both made the Law School, the legal profession, and South Dakota better. We've done great things together and great things are yet to come.

Thank you to the Two Chiefs.

Data Security and All the Other Lawyers

Mark Bassingthwaite, Esq.
Risk Manager, ALPS
mbass@alpsnet.com

During a presentation at the ABA's 44th National Conference of Professional Responsibility last year, a CLE panelist threw out the following. Given that a lawyer has an ethical duty to verify that any vendor a firm works with has in place appropriate safeguards to keep the lawyer's data secure, why wouldn't the same duty arise when a lawyer shares data with another lawyer outside of the firm? For example, do lawyers have a duty to make sure any lawyer they co-counsel with has appropriate data security safeguards in place? How about all the lawyers who are adverse to your firm's clients? After all, data is being regularly exchanged during discovery and contract negotiations just for starters.

I will admit this comment caught me off guard; but I quickly came to realize a legitimate concern had been raised. Think about it. There are no exceptions in the Rules of Professional Conduct that say something along the lines of don't worry about data security issues when exchanging digital data with lawyers outside of your own firm. Couple that with the reality that there are still a significant percentage of lawyers in active practice who have no idea how to encrypt a file or a mobile device, have no idea what a VPN is, and/or have no intention of using more than one easy to remember password for everything they do and hopefully the issue becomes clear. Heck, even failing to scan data coming from lawyers outside the firm for possible malware infections could be problematic.

It's all about data security and, ethical duties aside, your clients expect you to take whatever steps are necessary to make sure their confidences remain confidential. To your clients, it will make no difference if it was you or your co-counsel who failed to take reasonable steps to prevent the unauthorized access to or inadvertent disclosure of their confidences. The same can be said for sharing data with any lawyer on the other side.

Again, I get it; and yes, trust is a good thing. I'm not suggesting that every time you want to form a co-counsel relationship or negotiate a contract you should have the lawyer complete a 3-page data security questionnaire. That said, what would be wrong with establishing basic guidelines as to the reasonable data security steps both lawyers or firms will take. For example, you might agree to commit to encrypting the data stream for any and all communications that include confidential client information and then decide how to best accomplish that.

GOOD COVERAGE. REASONABLE RATES.

“ Long history of providing good coverage with reasonable rates and experienced claims handlers who are all lawyers. ”

THE NATION'S LARGEST DIRECT WRITER OF LAWYERS' MALPRACTICE INSURANCE

Here' the bottom-line. Data security is the name of the game and it's your reputation that's on the line. Should the unexpected ever happen, your clients are going to want answers. When the truth is the misstep was a failure to consider and responsibly address the risks associated with exchanging digital data with other lawyers, well let's just be honest and admit this is never going to pass muster; but, of course, you already know that.

CERTIFICATE OF COMPLIANCE

INSTRUCTIONS

The certificate of compliance for the year 2020 must be submitted to the State Bar of South Dakota by January 31, 2021.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION concerning compliance with trust accounting records and procedures, including the reporting form, appear immediately following this notice. All ACTIVE members of the State Bar of South Dakota must file the compliance form with the State Bar not later than January 31, 2021. This rule includes retired lawyers, lawyers engaged in teaching, banking, insurance, full-time government employees, etc. This reporting requirement does NOT include inactive lawyers nor does it include Judges (Federal or Unified Judicial System) who are full time and did not have private clients.

Andrew L. Fergel
Secretary-Treasurer

TRUST ACCOUNT COMPLIANCE FORM INSTRUCTIONS

Immediately following these instructions, a model form has been reproduced. The form may be modified to accommodate multiple signatures where a number of or all partners in a law firm utilize a single trust account. Please type the name of the sole practitioner or, if using a common firm trust account, the names of all lawyers utilizing the trust account. For the balance of the form, fill in the blanks, check the spaces, or leave blank or mark n/a where appropriate.

1 - check (a), (b), or (c) if applicable

2 - self explanatory (usually appropriate for inactive or retired members)

3 - self explanatory (usually exclusive or full-time corporate, legal aid, or public sector lawyer. Please identify the employer.)

3(a)- self explanatory (usually appropriate for part-time Bankruptcy trustees)

4 - self explanatory (usually appropriate for the employee or associate of a law firm who does not have trust account writing authority.) At this point, inactive, retired, full-time corporate, legal aid, or public sector lawyers, and associates without trust account check writing authority may sign the form and stop.

All others should have trust accounts and must provide the following information:

5 - state the name, address, and account number of trust account financial institution

6 - the blanks should be completed with the most recent monthly trust account reconciliation.

Keep in mind monthly reconciliations are required. For example, if this form were completed on 12-15-10, you would insert the closing date of the most recent bank statement (i.e. 11-30-10).

6(a)-(h), and 7 - type or print yes or no in space provided. If you can answer "yes" to each of these questions, you are in compliance with Supreme Court Rule 91-10. If you must answer any of these in the negative, you need to make changes in your trust accounting system. A negative answer will result in further inquiry.

8 - This question merely requires you to confirm that a monthly reconciliation was performed and if there were errors/inconsistencies in the reconciliation, to explain the same. I remind you that the effective date of this rule was July 1, 1991. It is not too late to perform the monthly reconciliations from and after July 1, 1991, through the date of completion of this form; however, monthly reconciliations must be performed prospectively.

I have heard from a number of lawyers who have said that their trust account has an odd amount, such as $4.54, which has been in the account for ages and the client has disappeared. The compliance report should so note the amount and reason (lawyer unable to disperse the sum of $4.54 belonging to a client because client is not able to be located).

Thereafter, if the amount remains constant ($4.54 as in this example), no further explanation is necessary in subsequent compliance forms.

The rule does not require nor do we want the amounts held in trust, the identities of clients, or any other confidential information. If all partners in a law firm use a common trust account, one form may be submitted provided all partners sign the form. Please type your name under your signature. This will avoid nuisance phone calls or letters trying to ascertain who signed the forms.

All lawyers must submit the compliance form no later than January 31, 2021. Please submit compliance forms after reviewing your December bank statements. If you have questions, please give me a call. ALF

Ryan Scott Dell
September 4, 1986 ~
December 16, 2020

Ryan passed away
Wednesday, December 16, 2020.

Ryan Scott Dell was born to Scott and Rhonda (Kline) Dell on September 4, 1986, and was the 4th generation Dell to be born in Brown County at Avera St. Luke's Hospital in Aberdeen. He attended Roncalli Catholic Schools, where his grandmother, Caroline, was the elementary secretary, for his entire pre-college career, graduating in 2005. Ryan continued his undergraduate education at St. John's University, in Collegeville, MN, and graduated with honors in 2009. He then studied law at the University of Denver, earning his Juris Doctorate in 2012. Ryan returned home to practice law with the law firm of Richards, Tonner, Oliver, Fischbach & Dell and remained with them until the date of his death.

Ryan loved the game of football, especially the relationships with teammates and coaches, and played both at Roncalli and at the legendary Coach John Gagliardi inspired program at St. John's University. He was a lifelong, avid Green Bay Packers fan, and treasured the trips he, his dad, and his brother, Darren, took to Lambeau Field. Ryan loved the outdoors, especially hunting with his family and his beloved chocolate lab, "Jack".

He was a past President of the Brown County Bar Association, a member of the Young Lawyers' Section of the South Dakota Bar Association, and a member of the board of directors of Habitat for Humanity.

Ryan was a beautiful Soul. He was a quiet, serious young man who had a passion for doing things thoroughly and for doing things right. A lawyer is in the business of resolving conflicts. It can be a tough profession for a gentle, sensitive person who has trouble detaching himself from the problems of his clients. Ryan was that kind of person. He was that kind of lawyer. He gave his clients all that he had.

Grateful to have shared Ryan's life are his parents, Scott and Rhonda Dell; his brother, Darren (Madeline) Dell; his newborn nephew, Harvey Darren Dell; his grandmother, Caroline Kline; his aunts, Pamela (Victor) Curci and Penny (Thomas) Roach; his uncle, Rick (Patty) Kline; his cousins, Jordan (Chelsey) Kline, Justin Kline, Hailey Kline, Harper Kline, Lennox Kline, Taylor Curado, Conner (Haylee) Roach, Sam Roach and Vinnie Curci.

Ryan was preceded in death by his paternal grandparents, Robert and Joan Dell, and his maternal grandfather, Leonard Kline.

Daniel B. Weinstein
November 23, 1984 -
December 11, 2020

Daniel B. Weinstein, age 36 of Sioux Falls, SD, passed away Friday, December 11, 2020.

We are incredibly sad to have lost our husband, son, brother, uncle, cousin, and nephew, Daniel B. Weinstein, Attorney at Law, who was an accomplished South Dakota lawyer with a passion for helping those in need. He was the youngest son of Dr. Audre E. DaCosta (John Scragg) and of the late Dr. Robert A. Weinstein (Soonja Weinstein). He was born in Denver, CO and raised in both Tamuning, Guam and Dallas, TX. Daniel is survived by Juliette, his loving wife, his maternal grandmother, Olive M. DaCosta Clark and siblings, Dr. Joshua A. Weinstein (Kami Weinstein), Dr. Mara Weinstein Velez (Dr. Moises Velez), Danae Leigh, Soonja Tyrrell, and Sevara Tyrrell in addition to seven vibrant nieces and nephews (Olive and Aston Weinstein, Elia, Sebastian, and Santiago Velez Weinstein, Dakota Lamar and Canyon Leigh) in addition to numerous aunts, uncles, cousins and friends. After an early high school graduation, Daniel, at 16 years of age, attended the Ursuline College in Westgate-on-Sea, England.

During that time he was on the rugby team, and won a first time award for Ursuline College from Pfizer in Public Speaking, entitled "Man Must Reach for the Stars." He graduated with honors. Daniel attended the George Washington University in Washington D.C. for college, graduating with a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration. He then attended St. Thomas University, School of Law and received his Juris Doctorate (JD). Daniel excelled academically at both of these institutions and was recognized for his outstanding scholastic performance. Specifically, throughout the course of his undergraduate degree, Daniel was selected to be a member of the National Society of Collegiate Scholars. During law school, his academic accomplishments landed him a spot on the Dean's List as well as a 'Book Award' for receiving the highest grade in the course, State and Local Taxation. After marrying the love of his life, Juliette, he moved to Sioux Falls and fulfilled his dream of practicing law. He was a zealous advocate for his clients and provided solution-oriented assistance. Daniel recently created Weinstein Law Firm, PLLC with the goal of serving the people of his local community. His practice was focused on civil litigation, debt related issues, personal injury matters, estate planning, corporate formation, and criminal defense work. In his first criminal jury trial, Daniel put his strong work ethic and excellent courtroom skills to use and obtained an acquittal for his client, of which he was very proud. He was also a member of the CJA panel where he represented criminal defendants in federal cases. Daniel was a member of the American Bar Association, the Second Circuit Bar Association and the South Dakota Bar. Outside of work, Daniel dedicated his time to the Mt. Zion synagogue in Sioux Falls and was an active Board Member. He and Juliette were in the process of completing their newly built home, preparing to start a family and daily entertained by their dog, "Butterscotch."

Daniel had a passion for music, fashion and was a skilled artist. He loved drawing, singing and dancing, and would spend countless hours teaching his siblings the lyrics to the latest song or coming up with choreography for the next talent show. We learned that he and Juliette, a professional vocalist, would sing together in harmony at every occasion they could. He was also a very gifted athlete and played both basketball and football in grade school. As an adult, he loved snowboarding and planned to hit the slopes this upcoming winter in both Colorado and Rochester, NY. At the young age of 36, his unexpected and sudden departure leaves us with heavy hearts. He was a kind soul who truly overcame life's adversities and rose to the occasion. Daniel's abbreviated time with us was truly a success story and an inspiration to us all. He was highly intelligent with so much love to give while at the same time, sensitive, charismatic, creative, talented and funny. While he achieved his dreams of practicing law, we will truly never know what a profound impact his life would have made. May his dedication to his craft and eagerness to help others inspire us to proceed in our lives to achieve our potential with goodwill towards all. Daniel, may you shine as a brilliant star upon us. We love you and will miss you immensely; hug dad for us.

In lieu of flowers we would appreciate your donation to #DanielsLegacyFund <https://gf.me/u/zchqxq> and a memory of Daniel to share with our family. Memorials may also be directed to Mt. Zion Temple, 523 W. 14th St. Sioux Falls, SD 57101. Daniel will be laid to rest in California- Details regarding his service are forthcoming.

Orrin S. Estebo
September 1, 1940 -
December 18, 2020

(In 2013 Orrin gave over $2 million to the University of South Dakota Law School. Half of his gift went to fund the Orrin S. Estebo Law Scholars Fund which provides financial help to beginning law students in their second semester of study.)

Orrin S. Estebo, age 80 of Redwood Falls, passed away Friday, December 18, 2020 at CentraCare – St. Cloud Hospital after an extended illness. A private family funeral service will be held. The service will be livestreamed on the Stephens Funeral Service Facebook page at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, December 23, 2020. A public memorial service will be held at a later date. Interment will be in the Redwood Falls Cemetery. Memorials can be directed to the Redwood Area Education Foundation or the Redwood Area Dollars for Scholars, Orrin S. Estebo Chapter. Stephens Funeral Service – Redwood Valley Funeral Home is assisting the family with arrangements.

Orrin Schuler Estebo was born in Farmington, MN, on September 1, 1940, to Orville and Lutetia (Schuler) Estebo. The family later moved to Cannon Falls, MN, where he attended school, graduating from Cannon Falls High School in 1958. The importance of education to Orrin started at a young age. After high school, he attended the University of Minnesota graduating from there in 1964. During those years, he worked a variety of jobs to put himself through college. He fulfilled his educational dream in 1971 by graduating from the University of South Dakota School of Law. On April 2, 1966, Orrin married Nancy Dangers in Fairfax, MN. The couple resided in Minneapolis, MN, Algona, IA, and Vermillion, SD, before moving to Redwood Falls in 1971. Orrin began practicing law with an established attorney, Wayne Farnberg, creating the firm of Farnberg & Estebo. In 1976, Estebo and colleagues established the law firm of Estebo, Carey, Schnobrich, and Frank Ltd. in Redwood Falls. The name of the law firm changed over the years but celebrated 40 years of practice in 2016. Orrin remained in an “of counsel” role for many years. Orrin was also active in many state and local law organizations. In the early 1980s, Orrin and his close friend, Dave Wood, became partners after purchasing Warrior Manufacturing Company, a producer of “quick hitches” used in the agricultural industry. Orrin maintained his ownership interest in the company for 20 years. As the success of this company grew, Orrin made investments in tracts of farmland currently farmed by several long-time tenants who were very near and dear to his heart. His relationships with tenants were genuine and he often said that they were part of his family. Orrin always had a passion for education, and Nancy’s role as a special education teacher in the Redwood Area School district fueled his desire to financially support the education of thousands of students in the local school district and also at the University of South Dakota School of Law. Following Nancy’s death in 1995, Orrin made the first of many significant financial gifts to education. His first gift of $100,000 allowed the school district to purchase technology labs and employ the district’s first technology coordinator. Additional gifts supported the Performing Arts Center and the facility, which is called the Estebo Performing Arts Center. Further gifts helped establish the Redwood Area Dollars for Scholars Chapter which carries his name. He gave significantly to the school’s music and art programs, and his generosity helped develop many school programs. Among these included the RVHS Robotics program and RVHS Student Trap Shooting Team. He paid the RVHS golf team dues for many years. In addition, there were several students through the years that Orrin helped get a start on their college education. Over a twenty-five-year period, Orrin donated several million dollars to the Redwood Area School District and the Redwood Area Education Foundation. Most recently, his donation of over $1.2 million was the pinnacle of his gifts helping move the district to construct the Orrin S. Estebo Career and Technical Training Center in 2019. Bringing students and adults together to learn meaningful practical employment skills was one of his dreams and will benefit residents and employers in this region for years to come. He was awarded the Key to the City of Redwood Falls in the summer of 2019 for his commitment to the school district and the community of Redwood Falls. Orrin’s devotion to his alma mater Law School was strong. In 2013 Orrin gave over $2 million to the University of South Dakota Law School. Half of his gift went to fund the Orrin S. Estebo Law Scholars Fund which provides financial help to beginning law students in their second semester of study. The other half of his gift supported construction and renovation of the 35-year-old law school building at USD, including a larger common area for students and faculty to meet. Whether it be at the elementary, middle, high school or graduate school level, Orrin’s well-known belief that “Education opens doors!” was very apparent in his financial gifts and strong belief in vocational education as well as in graduate level education. Orrin had a passion for Redwood Falls. He established the Orrin S. Estebo Foundation to support the community of Redwood Falls. He was active in many community organizations and a strong supporter of the Redwood Falls Golf Course. Orrin had passion for hunting, fishing, golfing, traveling, riding his horse, and flying his airplane. He made several hunting trips out West and sat around many campfires with friends enjoying stories and laughs. He also spent countless hours studying French. Orrin loved his many dogs over the years and truly believed that a dog is a man’s best friend. On March 16, 2001, Orrin married Shirley Kronberg Erickson. They resided in Redwood Falls until Orrin's death. They enjoyed traveling the world as well as spending winters in Florida. Orrin embraced the virtues of humility, generosity, and gratefulness. He had a great sense of humor and a quick wit. Those close to him experienced his humor on a regular basis. He loved his family very much. He had a special relationship with a son by cultural exchange, Jan Honinx of Belgium. He also had a special relationship with his great nephews, Deon and Jaydon Estebo. The humor, lessons, and love that he shared with them will live on.

Orrin is survived by his wife Shirley of Redwood Falls; step son Rion Erickson; a son by cultural exchange, Jan Honinx of Belgium; his sister, Audrey (John Eaton) Estebo of Falcon Heights; sister-in-law, Carol Estebo of Marshall; brother-in-law, Roger Kruse of Marietta; 5 nephews: Shannon (Cheryl) Kruse, Will (Koyla) Kruse, and Ryan (Samantha) Kruse, Chad (Joan) Estebo, and Perry (Renee) Estebo; 2 nieces: Anne Eaton and Alyce Eaton and his close friend Jim Tersteeg of Redwood Falls. He is preceded in death by his first wife, Nancy, his parents, brother, Stephen Estebo, and sister, Ruth Kruse.

Blessed be his memory.

Gloria Jill Engel
July 22, 1937 -
December 25, 2020

Gloria was born July 22, 1937 in Agar, South Dakota. She remained in the area and graduated for Gettysburg High School 1955. Shortly after high school graduation she met LeRoy Engel and they married June 2, 1956. They had four children; Bernadette Engel, Shawn Engel (Camilla), Stephen Engel, and Heather Engel Wermers (Mark). They raised their family in Pierre, South Dakota. She was blessed with six grandchildren, who she adored; Shawn Engel II (Amanda), Michael Wermers (Lisa), Katherine Postma (Aaron), Matthew Wermers, Lyndon Engel, and Wyatt Engel. She has three great grandchildren; Maisy Engel, Beckham Engel, and Dylan Postma. She was preceded in death by her parents, sister, husband, and daughter Bernadette.

Jill enjoyed a long successful career as the Clerk of the South Dakota Supreme Court. It was a career she was incredibly proud of. It was through her career she developed a strong affection for the law, politics, and for having a strong debate with family and friends. Upon retirement from the Court, she relocated to Sioux Falls, South Dakota where she volunteered at Habitat for Humanity.

There wasn't an activity her grandchildren participated in that she wasn't there to cheer them on. From sports, to dance, and educational presentations. She wasn't just their biggest cheerleader, she was a mentor to them, and loved to actively engage with them in intellectual conversions. She loved challenging them, and even more, loved when they challenged her back.

Her hobbies were many. She loved playing bridge and bowling. She occasionally hit the links for a round of golf. She loved to travel, from annual trips to New York, to England, Scotland, Japan, and to the many states her children and grandchildren have lived in. She was an avid "rapid reader", mostly enjoying mystery and suspense novels. She was a knitter when she lived in Pierre, and picked it up again when her grandchildren started knitting. She loved music and attending live concerts, a couple of her favorites were Pavorotti and Adele.

Memorials may be directed to the Children's Inn.

Issue Presented: May a South Dakota lawyer ethically counsel, advise, provide legal services to, or represent a marijuana cultivator, processor, or seller when the sale of marijuana is legal under South Dakota law but illegal under federal law?

Answer: No

Rules Implicated: 1.2

FACTS AND APPLICABLE RULE

In November 2020, two South Dakota state ballot measures, Initiated Measure 26, legalizing marijuana for medical use by qualifying patients under certain conditions, and Constitutional Amendment A, legalizing the cultivation, processing, possession, use, and distribution of recreational marijuana subject to various restrictions, passed by a majority vote of the electorate.

Issues of substantive law are ordinarily outside the Committee’s purview, but here there is no doubt (and the Committee therefore assumes) that manufacturing, distributing, or dispensing marijuana, or possessing marijuana intending to do any of the foregoing, remain illegal under federal law. See 21 U.S.C. § 812(b) and (c) (defining marijuana as a Schedule I controlled substance) and 21 U.S.C. § 841(a) and (b) (proscribing certain conduct related to controlled substances and prescribing certain criminal penalties for violations).

Lawyer inquires whether the South Dakota Rules of Professional Conduct permit Lawyer to advise a client about licensing and other legal issues related to establishing, licensing, or otherwise operating a business to distribute or dispense marijuana.

Rule 1.2(d) of the South Dakota Rules of Professional conduct states that “[a] lawyer shall not counsel a client to engage, or assist a client, in conduct the lawyer knows is criminal or fraudulent, but lawyer may discuss the legal consequences of any proposed course of conduct with a client and may counsel or assist a client to make a good faith effort to determine the validity, scope, meaning or application of the law.” SDCL Chapter 16-18 Appendix, Rule 1.2(d).

CONCLUSION

Rule 1.2(d) does not distinguish between client conduct that is illegal under South Dakota law and client conduct that is illegal only under federal law. It applies to any illegal client conduct. Consequently, Lawyer may not ethically provide legal services to assist a client in establishing, licensing, or otherwise operating a marijuana business. Lawyer may only advise a client considering this course of action about the potential legal consequences of doing so, under either state or federal law, or assist the client in making a good faith effort to determine the validity, scope, meaning, or application of the relevant state and federal law.
